

I am writing to urge you not to overthrow NJ's Do Not Call Law. Prior to the law, dinner was constantly interrupted by annoying phone calls. As it is, I am still inundated with calls for contributions to various charities. I do not want to go back to having businesses also calling, even if I have done business with them before. I will contact the business if I need their services.